

NEWS RELEASE:

PILOTS REWARDED FOR INFORMATION

OKLAHOMA CITY, November 20, 2002 – Solutions Offered to Pilots in Need

Pilots in-the-know are being asked to provide the names of grounded pilots to Pilot Medical Solutions, Inc. an aeromedical pilot advocate firm seeking to help pilots with medical waivers in Oklahoma City.

Pilots are invited to submit names online and earn $200 for each referred client. Altruists wishing to waive compensation can pass the money onto the grounded pilot. “This program has provided the much-needed encouragement for many pilots who have been affected by the current aviation trough,” said David Hale, Chief Executive for Pilot Medical Solutions. “While our goal is to help pilots who have lost medical certification, this program has also given active pilots a fulfilling role as they help their friends return to flying.”

The program, initially created for in-house marketing reps, became available to all pilots in October 2002 effectively revisiting the companies 1995 birth when David Hale set out to help a fellow Bonanza pilot with his FAA medical. Pilots can submit names online at: www.leftseat.com/rewards or by calling 800-699-4457.

Founded in 1995, Pilot Medical Solutions, Inc. is the only independent aeromedical advocate company in existence assisting more than 20,000 pilots each year via toll-free pilot hotlines and online at www.leftseat.com.
